

CAREER BOOST ACADEMY

Since 2017 International Cochran Piano Competition has been organizing free webinars created for young musicians and professionals who come from the music industry around the world. All online meetings are open for anyone interested in learning about psychological, physical and business aspects of a musician's work. This project aims to broaden musician's knowledge of project management, marketing, the development of their careers and building their image.

Webinars are available on the subpage of the International Cochran Piano Competition website, thanks to which every interested person can come back and watch once again the recording of live classes to consolidate their knowledge. Among the hosts of this online workshops are internationally known artists, people of business and specialists working in the music industry on a daily basis. So far the Career Boost Academy has been conducted by Jadwiga Isia Śmieszchalska, Carsten Durer, Mateusz Telega and Christoph Altstaedt. The webinars are run in English.
